

Summary

As a recently qualified veterinary surgeon, I bring a distinctive combination of skills and experiences from my previous career in intelligence, strategy management, and education. My professional journey, rooted in supporting senior management and implementing operational projects, has equipped me with meticulous attention to detail, a strategic mindset, and a strong aptitude for in-depth analysis and problem-solving.

Driven by a deep passion for animal welfare and healthcare, I initially transitioned into veterinary medicine to channel my expertise toward a meaningful and fulfilling career. However, life's evolving circumstances have inspired me to seek a new professional direction outside of clinical practice. I am now eager to leverage my diverse background and transferable skills in a role that allows me to make a broader impact, exploring new opportunities to contribute meaningfully while embracing fresh challenges
