

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am submitting my profile through the LMRA Talent Portal to express my interest in opportunities in Bahrain. I recently completed my MSc in International Business Management from Anglia Ruskin University in the UK, building on my MBA in Marketing and Finance. My professional experience has been shaped through customer-facing and operational roles in the UK retail sector, where I developed strong skills in account coordination, team supervision, and day-to-day financial controls.

Currently working with B&M; Retail as an Accounts Supervisor, I handle financial reporting, reconciliation, and process improvements while supporting team performance and operational accuracy. These roles have taught me the importance of reliability, clear communication, and maintaining strong working relationships with both customers and colleagues.

What I bring is a practical mindset, international academic exposure, and a genuine willingness to contribute wherever I can add value. I am keen to apply my business knowledge, adaptability, and work ethic within Bahrain's dynamic professional environment.

Thank you for taking the time to review my profile. I would welcome the opportunity to contribute and grow within your organization.

Sincerely, Raveen George Thomas
