Best of greetings to your respectful company, I am Ahmed AlMahroos a recent Human Resources graduate with a Bachelor degree from Bahrain Polytechnic. Achievements of my goals and yearly objective have always motivated me to find hope in life and feel proud of myself in my personal life. Achievement of my targets always had been a part of my drive power and I always wanted to work in an organization with an achievement based culture.

hich led the firm to be one of the best in innovation in the kingdom of Bahrain. Another aspect that can make me loyal to the firm is that Brinc values their employees as an important asset and take care of their Career development and always reward their performance as individuals or as a team.

The top 4 personal skills that help me to operate as a valuable employee in a company is being a critical thinker, a problem solver, a self-motivator and being an initiative employee. While professionally, I have developed my skills and knowledge by being certified in facilitating and designing online training sessions, Certified in International Computer Driving license, Certified in Communication and Interpersonal skills at the workplace and lastly being certified in HR strategy and HR initiatives.

If I Had the Great opportunity to be a strategy Intern in your Reputable company I would give all I have to effectively fulfill and out stand the roles and responsibility assigned to me.

Thank you for Reading my message and thank you for giving me part of your time. I am happy to take an informal or a formal interview for any opportunities you would offer me.
